Minister and Deputy Minister congratulate the Department of Public Service and Administration on achieving a clean audit

Pretoria - The Minister for the Public Service and Administration, Inkosi Mzamo Buthelezi, and the Deputy Minister, Pinky Kekana, would like to congratulate the Department of Public Service and Administration (DPSA) on receiving a clean audit outcome from the Auditor General of South Africa for the 2023-24 financial year.

"This is a significant achievement for the department and a testament to the hard work and commitment of the leadership and staff," said Minister Inkosi Buthelezi. "A clean audit demonstrates the department's dedication to good governance, financial management, and service delivery."

Deputy Minister Kekana echoed these sentiments, stating: "Receiving a clean audit is an important milestone, not just for the DPSA, but for the public service as a whole. It shows that we can deliver efficient, accountable, and transparent government to the people of South Africa."

The clean audit outcome means the department's financial statements are free of material misstatements, its performance information is reliable, and it has complied with key legislation.

"This achievement would not have been possible without the collective effort of the entire DPSA team," added Minister Buthelezi. "We commend the Director-General, Ms Yoliswa Makhasi, and all the department's employees for their hard work and dedication."

The Minister and Deputy Minister said the clean audit outcome sets a benchmark for other government departments to aspire to, and they encouraged the DPSA to continue its exemplary performance.

"Good governance and accountability are essential for rebuilding trust in the public service," concluded Deputy Minister Kekana. "The DPSA has shown what is possible, and we look forward to seeing other departments follow suit."
